After trying the food, my son said, "Places like this should be recognized." And he's right. We couldn't resist the dessert of flaky fresh guava and cheese pastries (85 cents each) before our meal. Their sweet/tart flavor is perfectly balanced, making them difficult to put down. Spicy meat pies ($1.35) are encased in a heavy but tasty crust. Chicken pies ($1.35) are accented with tasty bits of pimento and potato.

Warm and savory ham croquettes (95 cents) are finished before we get home. The turkey sub ($5.19 for a 6-inch; $7.79 for a 12-inch) is piled high with premium turkey and dressed with our choice of lettuce, tomatoes, pickles, black olives, sweet peppers and jalapenos.

The zesty Italian ($5.29 for a 6-inch, $7.95 for a 12-inch) features ham, capicola, salami, and peppercorn (spicy ham). We enjoy it pressed and toasty. Though we should stop at the guava pastry, we can't resist the moist, dense chocolate peanut butter brownie ($1.49) iced with fudgy frosting.

The peanut butter brownie ($1.49) is a cakey brownie iced with creamy peanut butter. Yum.
